God Faith And Reason

Grace from God correlates with faith in us. And the reason is that grace is God's free giving and faith is our helpless receiving. When God justifies us by faith alone, he has respect not to faith as virtue but faith as a receiving of Christ. So it is the same as saying that not our virtue but Christ's virtue is the ground of our justification. What Faith Receives. Now the key question is: What does faith receive in order to be justifying faith?

Faith and Reason | Desiring God

In God Faith and Reason, Dr. Savage sets the groundwork for the questioning, reasoning and searching of the greater power in the universe we call God. His life experiences, short stories and passages presented in the book are reminiscent of the daily experiences people all over the world have with the Almighty.

Different conceptions of faith cohere with different views of its relation to reason or rationality. The classic medieval understanding of faith, set forth by Thomas Aquinas, saw it as the belief in revealed truths on the authority of God as their ultimate source and guarantor.

Christianity - Faith and reason | Britannica

"Faith and reason are like two wings on which the human spirit rises to the contemplation of truth; and God has placed in the human heart a desire to know the truth—in a word, to know himself—so that, by knowing and loving God, men and women may also come to the fullness of truth about themselves (cf. Ex 33:18; Ps 27:8-9; 63:2-3; Jn 14:8; 1 Jn 3:2)."—Fides et Ratio

Some Christians have the idea that faith and reason are in conflict, divided by some unbridgeable chasm. They think that one takes over where the other leaves off. In reality, faith and reason work together seamlessly to help us know and love our Maker. Many Christians perceive a conflict between reason and faith.

Faith vs. Reason | Answers in Genesis

Reason can show that that there is a God and can demonstrate his primary attributes such as his power and divinity. Reason lays the foundation for faith and makes revelation "credible." Reason is thus the common ground between believers and unbelievers. Faith without reason withers into myth or superstition.

Hence, faith is not just believing that God exists; it also means believing in God, putting one's trust in God and aligning one's will and purpose with his. Moreover, one can (in principle) have good reasons to trust God in this way, just as one can have good reasons to trust a friend or a parent.

God, Faith, and Reason | Topics in the Philosophy of Religion

Faith and reason are both sources of authority upon which beliefs can rest. Reason generally is understood as the principles for a methodological inquiry, whether intellectual, moral, aesthetic, or religious. Thus is it not simply the rules of logical inference or the embodied wisdom of a tradition or authority.
