Nothing O'clock Doctor Who 50th

Nothing O'Clock was the eleventh Puffin e-short released to celebrate the 50th anniversary of Doctor Who, this time featuring the Eleventh Doctor. It was originally the last in the series before the release of Lights Out the following year. Thousands of years ago, Time Lords built a Prison for the Kin. They made it utterly impregnable and unreachable. As long as Time Lords existed, the Kin ...

The Puffin eshorts were a series of short stories released digitally by Puffin Books to celebrate the 50th anniversary of Doctor Who. One story was released on the 23rd of each month of 2013, each featuring a different incarnation of the Doctor. The series began in January with a First Doctor story and proceeded chronologically through the Doctors until it culminated with an Eleventh Doctor ...

Puffin eshort - Tardis Data Core, the Doctor Who Wiki

But here we come to the main problem with Nothing O'Clock, it's too short and so neither Amy nor the Doctor nor the TARDIS get a gratifying enough airing. The Eleventh Doctor's first console room is possibly my favourite ever (I'm a not a fan of the new one, you see) and as I picked up my copy of Nothing O'Clock I had to restrain myself from skipping to the bit where Gaiman described it.
