Isaac Newton discovered gravity. false State Newton's law of universal gravitation using words. For any pair of objects, each object attracts the other object with a force that is directly proportional to the product of the masses of the objects and inversely proportional to the square of the distance between their centers of mass.

In the derivation of g from the Universal Gravitation equation, the mass cancels. E is true; g is inversely proportional to the square of the distance; a doubling of the distance means that you must divide the force of gravity value by 4 (2 2 ) to obtain the new force of gravity value.

Newton's Law of Universal Gravitation Newton connected the idea that objects, like apples, fall towards the center of Earth with the idea that the moon orbits around Earth...it's also falling towards the center of Earth. The moon just stays in circular motion since it has a velocity perpendicular to its acceleration.

The magnitude of that force, F g, can be calculated using Newton's Law of Universal Gravitation: This law tells us that the force of gravity between two objects is proportional to each of the masses (m1 and m2) and inversely proportional to the square of the distance between them (r).
